

TRANSPARENCY

The WikiLeaks Party believes that truth protects a healthy democracy. Where truth is suppressed or distorted, the government is at risk of corruption. The WikiLeaks Party cares about truth, not which party is elected.

Despite the hard work of individual politicians throughout Australian history, the Senate has failed in its original function of keeping government honest. The WikiLeaks Party will support the restoration of the senate to its rightful place as an independent house of review.

The WikiLeaks Party knows that honest information is the foundation of a strong democracy. It is only when big party politicians are held accountable that justice can be done.

The WikiLeaks Party will guide the senate back to its original purpose of shining light on bad governmental practices. This will mean the big parties can't have it all their own way, and will have to learn to play fair.

In toeing the party line, career politicians have to make sacrifices. The WikiLeaks Party comes from an uncompromised tradition of speaking truth to power.

ASYLUM SEEKERS

The WikiLeaks Party stands for a culture change in our asylum policy. We believe that asylum seeking is a basic human right. The WikiLeaks Party will support the ethical treatment for asylum seekers and the reversal of the PNG deal.

Australia's share of worldwide asylum seekers has been grossly overstated. Good policy can only emerge from a well-informed citizenry. The WikiLeaks Party will bring transparency to the asylum seeker debate.

CLIMATE CHANGE

The WikiLeaks Party acknowledges that human induced change to the climate is occurring and will continue to occur unless actions are taken to reduce greenhouse gas emissions in Australia and globally.

MEDIA

Currently, 98% of Australian print media is in the hands of just three corporations. The Wikileaks Party supports radical change in media policy to nourish truthful and transparent media.

SHIELD LAWS

Journalists working in our media need unhindered access to their sources in order to expose corruption in our society. The WikiLeaks Party, if elected to the Senate, will move immediately to introduce a national shield law to protect the confidentiality of journalistic sources.

SURVEILLANCE

Australians are entitled to know if our police and intelligence agencies are revealing our personal data to foreign security organizations. If elected, the WikiLeaks Party will act to ensure that all access to our personal data by these agencies must first be approved by a democratic oversight process.

VOTE 1 The WikiLeaks Party to bring transparency, accountability and justice to the Australian political landscape.
